Maria and Ariel are members of an elite society of prominent men and women in the media and entertainment industry. In 2000, they struck the millennium 'gold' with the launch of their revolutionary cosmetic line, 'Magdaline'. Business has been on the decline, however, since their colleague, Charles, through a scientific breakthrough, was able to improve women's cosmetics beyond belief. Charles, who has been working on a new research project, has always favoured Maria.

At a recently held Cosmetics Convention, Ariel poured a sedative in Charles' champagne and Maria lured him to her hotel room. Maria promised to fulfil his wildest dreams in exchange for $10M and information on his current research. Under the influence of the drugs, Charles did an immediate wire transfer and emailed all his research data. Maria kept her end of the bargain. Before the end of that month, Maria and Ariel launched a new line of lipsticks, based upon Charles' research. They were once again on top of the cosmetics chart.
